PROVINCIAL DEATH INVESTIGATOR PILOT

Provincial Death Investigator (PDI) Pilot Launch

The Office of the Chief Coroner (OCC) is pleased to announce the launch of the recruitment for paramedics to serve as Provincial Death Investigators (PDIs) for its PDI Pilot.

The OCC is committed to providing high-quality death investigations and is seeking to strengthen and diversify the death investigation workforce through the recruitment of paramedics via this initiative. This pilot project will be used to assess the effectiveness of paramedics in:

- conducting death investigations
- addressing challenges with on scene attendance and schedule gaps in the pilot areas within the province.

The OCC will be recruiting five to ten paramedics to serve as PDIs in the following areas:

- Midland
- Collingwood
- Grey County
- Counties of Wellington and Dufferin

PDI Role

The PDI will primarily conduct investigations into non-natural deaths (homicide, suicide, accident, undetermined), and certain natural deaths (such as those which meet the criteria under the Coroners Act). Attendance at the scene of death is required for investigations.

The accompanying position description provides further details on responsibilities, qualifications, and the application process.

Successful candidates will be part of the Spring 2026 cohort attending the New Coroners Course. This will be a one-year pilot, with ongoing evaluation throughout and upon completion of the one-year period.

Information Session

A voluntary information session will be held virtually via Zoom on January 26, 2026 from 3:00pm to 4:00pm to share more information about this opportunity. The session will be recorded. Attendance at the session is optional and will have no impact on application process.
